Footnote. Rules - as amended by the order of the Minister of Information and Social Development of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 26.09.2022 № 407 (shall be enforced ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

Chapter 1. General Provisions

1. These Rules for the Formation, Monitoring of Implementation and Assessment of the Fulfilment of the State Social Order (hereinafter referred to as the Rules) have been developed in accordance with subparagraph 3) of Article 4-1 of the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan “On state social order, state order for the implementation of strategic partnerships , grants and awards for non-governmental organizations in the Republic of Kazakhstan” (hereinafter referred to as the Law) and shall determine the procedure for the formation, monitoring of the implementation and assessment of the results of the state social order of the state body in the field of state social order.

2. The following basic concepts shall be used in these Rules:

- 1) formation of the state social order - the process of planning the topics of the state social order in accordance with the competence of the state body;
- 2) monitoring the implementation of the state social order - collection, processing and analysis of information on the implementation of the state social order;
- 3) assessment of the results of the state social order - analysis of the effectiveness of the implementation of the state social order;
- 4) state body in the field of state social ordering and grants for non-governmental organizations (hereinafter referred to as the State body) - a state body, including the central state and local executive body, carrying out activities to form, monitor the implementation and assess the results of the state social order, form and evaluating the effectiveness of state grants for non-governmental organizations;
- 5) conflict of interest - a situation in which the personal interest of independent experts or members of the expert council may affect the objective decision-making;
- 6) authorized body in the field of interaction with non-governmental organizations (hereinafter referred to as the Authorized body) - a state body that manages intersectoral coordination in the field of interaction with non-governmental organizations;
- 7) public procurement web portal - an information system of a state body that provides a single point of access to electronic public procurement services.

Chapter 2. The procedure for the formation of the state social order

3. The formation of the state social order shall consist of collecting information, analyzing the situation in a certain area of activity in accordance with the competence of the state body, planning the topics of the state social order, including it in the budget application and considering it in the manner established by the budgetary legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

4. The formation of the state social order shall be based on the principles of:

- 1) legality;
- 2) improving the efficiency of the implementation of social projects and (or) social programs in the Republic of Kazakhstan;
- 3) participation of citizens of the Republic of Kazakhstan in solving social problems;
- 4) ensuring equal opportunities for non-governmental organizations;
- 5) publicity and openness of the process of state social order.

5. The formation of the state social order shall be carried out within the limits of the expenses provided for by the Republican and local budgets.

6. The formation of the state social order shall be carried out based on strategic and policy documents, proposals from state bodies and non-governmental organizations, as well as data from an assessment of the needs and requirements of the population in the areas provided for in Article 5 of the Law.

7. Formation of the state social order shall be carried out in four stages.

1) The first stage is the collection of information and analysis of the situation. Sources of information for situation analysis are:

data of the needs and requirements of the population. Assessment of the needs and requirements of the population shall be carried out by state bodies at least once every two years;

priorities of the state policy of the Republic of Kazakhstan, documents of the state planning system of the Republic of Kazakhstan, messages of the President of the Republic of Kazakhstan;

results of inspections, monitoring of implementation and assessment of the results of social projects and (or) social programs;

official statistical reports on the implementation of strategic and policy documents;

results of sociological research;

proposals from non-governmental organizations and citizens;

results of content analysis of the media;

conclusions of independent experts;

surveys and Internet conferences on the Open Dialogue Internet portal.

2) The second stage shall be planning the themes of the state social order. Based on the analysis, state bodies shall form the topics of the state social order and post information on the planned topics of the state social order for the corresponding year in the form, in accordance with Annex 1 to these Rules, on their Internet resource for public discussion with non-governmental organizations and citizens;

The term for public discussion of the topics of the state social order on the Internet resource of the state body shall be at least 10 (ten) working days from the date of their placement.

Comments and (or) proposals received on the Internet resource after the end of the period for public discussion of the topics of the state social order shall not be considered.

State bodies shall consider comments and (or) proposals on the topics of the state social order within 3 (three) working days after the end of the public discussion and decide on their acceptance or rejection, indicating the justifications.

State bodies shall form and publish on their Internet resource a report on the completion of public discussion of the topics of the state social order in the form, in accordance with Annex 2 to these Rules.

3) The third stage shall be the introduction of topics of the state social order for consideration by the Coordinating Council under the authorized body or councils for interaction and cooperation with non-governmental organizations created under state bodies.

The central state bodies shall annually, no later than January 5, send to the authorized body information on social projects and (or) social programs of the state social order planned for implementation after public discussion for the corresponding calendar year in the form, in accordance with Annex 3 to these Rules (hereinafter referred to as Information).

The authorized body shall submit the Information for consideration by the Coordinating Council under the authorized body.

The authorized body shall send to the central state bodies the recommendations of the Coordinating Council under the authorized body on the topics of the state social order in accordance with their competence.

Local executive bodies shall annually before August 1 submit the Information for consideration by the councils of the corresponding level.

Based on the recommendations of the Coordinating Council under the authorized body or the Council for Interaction and Cooperation with Non-Governmental Organizations established under the state bodies, state bodies shall form a list of topics for the state social order and develop draft technical specifications in accordance with the State Social Order Standard approved by order of the Minister of Public Development of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated August 15, 2018 № 19 “On Approval of the State Social Order Standard” (registered in the State Register of Normative Legal Acts under № 17314) (hereinafter referred to as the Standard), as well as with the legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan on public procurement.

4) The fourth stage shall be inclusion in the budget application in the manner prescribed by the budget legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan. After the development of technical specifications, state bodies shall enter the topics and amounts of financing of the state social order, and include them in their budget requests in the manner prescribed by the budget legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

After the approval of the budget, state bodies shall annually, until January 25, post on their Internet resource and send the Information to the authorized body.

Chapter 3. The procedure for monitoring the implementation of the state social order

8. Monitoring of the implementation of the state social order shall be carried out by state bodies and include the collection, processing and analysis of information provided by non-governmental organizations to take timely, high-quality measures to ensure the effective implementation of social projects and (or) social programs.

9. Monitoring of the implementation of the state social order shall be carried out by state bodies at least 2 (two), but not more than 5 (five) times per calendar year, depending on the period of implementation of the social project, according to the following indicators:

1) the process of implementing the plan (compliance of the work performed and (or) the service provided, previously specified in the technical specification, the list of activities performed);

2) the level of satisfaction of the target audience as a result of the implementation of the social project in accordance with paragraph 8 of the Standard;

3) coverage of targeted population groups within the framework of social projects and (or) social programs implemented under the state social order;

4) compliance with the Standard, when placing a state social order for training, consulting, information and methodological, research and analytical services, organization of events and work of the civil (resource) center.

When monitoring social projects, the following tools shall be used:

method - monitoring the level and quality of services provided during the project;

questionnaires and interviews - a collection of primary information to obtain data on the topic under study, determining and tracking the dynamics of assessment/satisfaction/perception of beneficiaries regarding the implementation of the project;

study of documentation - analysis of the information provided, reports, and supporting documents, to obtain accurate and comprehensive information on the implementation of the project and to establish the reliability of the information provided by the supplier on the project;

monitoring of social networks - search for references or publications on the project in social networks, as well as further processing and analysis of the collected data to study the dissemination of information among the population, as well as to collect feedback from the participants and (or) beneficiaries of the project.

When the amount of the social project is not more than five hundred times the size of the monthly calculation index established by the law on the Republican budget for the corresponding financial year, state bodies shall monitor the state social order independently.

If the amount of the social project is more than five hundred times the monthly calculation index established by the law on the Republican budget for the corresponding financial year, state bodies shall involve independent experts from non-governmental organizations and their representatives to monitor the state social order.

Independent experts shall submit to the state body a notification of the presence or absence of a conflict of interest with a non-governmental organization implementing the state social order in the form, in accordance with Annex 4 to these Rules.

During monitoring, independent experts shall request information and documents from non-governmental organizations in accordance with the requirements of the technical specification and contractual terms of the project.

No more than one expert shall be required to monitor one social project.

Footnote. Paragraph 9 as amended by the order of the Minister of Culture and Information of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 26.04.2024 № 169-HK (effective ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

10. Based on the results of monitoring the implementation of the state social order, a report shall be drawn up separately for each social project and (or) social program to monitor the progress of implementation and timely adoption of operational measures aimed at ensuring the effective implementation of social projects and (or) social programs.

11. Based on the results of the monitoring carried out by state bodies, the authorized body shall prepare information on the results of the implementation of the state social order and annually send it to the Government of the Republic of Kazakhstan by March 31.

12. State bodies shall post on their Internet resources information on the implementation and assessment of the results of social projects within the framework of the state social order in the form, in accordance with Annex 5 to these Rules.

Chapter 4. Procedure for evaluating the results of the state social order

13. Assessment of the results of the state social order shall be carried out for the purpose of:

- 1) identifying the effectiveness of the implementation of social projects and (or) social programs in terms of achieving the goal and objectives of the project;
- 2) identifying the degree of satisfaction with the services provided within the framework of the state social order, and the degree of impact of social projects and (or) social programs on the target group;
- 3) availability of justification for the subsequent process of formation of the state social order for the planning of social projects and (or) social programs;
- 4) submission of recommendations and proposals for improving the implementation of the assessed social projects and (or) social programs.

14. Assessment of the results of the state social order shall be carried out immediately after the end of the social project and (or) social program before signing the act of services rendered.

15. Assessment of the results shall be carried out for all implemented social projects and (or) social programs within the framework of the state social order. Social projects with an implementation period of more than one year shall be assessed based on the results of the projects.

16. The assessment shall be carried out by expert councils created under state bodies from among representatives of civil society for a period of the next 3 (three) calendar years.

When selecting candidates for members of the expert council, the state body shall base on the principles of publicity and voluntary participation in the work of the expert council. Candidates for inclusion in the composition of the expert council shall be nominated by self-nomination after the publication by the state body on its Internet resource of the announcement on the formation of the composition of the expert council.

If candidates are not nominated within 10 (ten) calendar days after the publication of the announcement, the state body shall personally form the composition of the expert council.

The preliminary composition of the expert council shall be submitted for approval by the Council for Interaction and Cooperation with Non-Governmental Organizations.

Members of the expert council shall carry out their activities voluntarily.

Members of the expert council shall submit to the state body a notification of the presence or absence of a conflict of interest with a non-governmental organization implementing the state social order in the form, in accordance with Annex 6 to these Rules.

17. The assessment shall be carried out based on the results of monitoring and reports on the implementation of the state social order.

18. To assess the state social order, scores from 1 to 5 shall be calculated according to the following criteria:

1) the results of the implementation of social projects (correspondence of the content and timing of activities to the schedule for the provision of services, compliance with methods, procedures, to what extent it was possible to achieve the goals set);

2) the positive effect of social projects on achieving goals in socially significant areas (the level of interest and satisfaction of the needs of the target audience, the coverage of targeted population groups within the framework of social projects, the specific results of solving social problems);

3) the probability of continuing activities initiated within the framework of a social project and (or) social program. Within the framework of this criterion, the sustainability of a social project and (or) a social program shall be assessed;

4) the probability of a long-term positive social effect based on the results of a social project and (or) a social program. Within the framework of this criterion, the level of satisfaction of the target group with the process of obtaining a service (product, result) under a social project and (or) social program shall be assessed.

The members of the expert council assess each project according to the form, in accordance with Annex 7 to these Rules.

19. State bodies, within 3 (three) working days after the completion of the assessment of the results of the state social order, form reports on the assessment of the results of the state social order for a social project and (or) social program in the form, in accordance with Annex 8 to these Rules and place on the web the public procurement portal when signing the act of services rendered through the public procurement web portal.

20. The act of services rendered based on the results of the implementation of the social project shall be signed by the state body after posting on the public procurement web portal a report on the assessment of the results of the state social order for the social project and (or) social program.

21. State bodies shall annually, following the results of half a year, before July 5 and following the results of the year, before February 5, submit to the authorized body a report on monitoring ongoing and (or) implemented social projects and (or) social programs within the framework of the state social order for the corresponding year in the form, in accordance with Annex 9 to these Rules. The report shall be provided in Kazakh and Russian languages in Excel format.
