Rules for the development, coordination, approval, registration, recording, change, revision, cancellation and enactment of national military standards used for the needs of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Kazakhstan, other troops and military units
Chapter 1. General Provisions

1. These Rules for the development, coordination, approval, registration, recording, change, revision, cancellation and enactment of national military standards used for the needs of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Kazakhstan, other troops and military units ( hereinafter referred to as the Rules) shall determine the procedure for the development, coordination, approval, registration, recording, change, revision, cancellation and enactment of national military standards on behalf of the Armed Forces of the Republic of Kazakhstan, other troops and military formations.

2. In these Rules, the following concepts are used:

1) developer – a legal entity performing work and (or) providing services for the development of national military standards;

2) military goods (products) – weapons, military, automotive and special equipment, technical and special means, clothing and special property, documentation, objects of intellectual property, equipment for the production, testing of military goods (products), components and spare parts for the specified goods (products);

3) dual-use (application) goods (products) – products and technologies used for civilian purposes, which can be used or subsequently repurposed and used as military goods (products);

4) military standardization– activity to establish technical requirements, rules, characteristics, technical standards for the purpose of their repeated use to objects of military standardization in relation to real and potential tasks;

5) the object of military standardization – military and dual-use products, processes and services (applications) which are subject to or subjected to standardization, including materials, raw materials, special technological equipment;

6) the subject of military standardization – concerned state bodies, technical committees, enterprises of the military-industrial complex and enterprises producing military and dual-use products (applications);

7) the national military standard – a document on standardization for products, processes and services, which, for the purpose of specific and special use, establishes rules, general principles and characteristics for military and dual-use (use) objects, including containing information, related to state secrets and restricted distribution;

8) the interstate military standard – a standard adopted by an authorized interstate body or interstate standardization organization, which establishes requirements for military and dual-use (use) products, as well as processes and other objects of military standardization associated with such products;

9) authorized body in the field of the defense industry – a state body responsible for the management and intersectoral coordination in the field of the defense industry (hereinafter referred to as the authorized body);

10) the fundamental military standard – standardization document establishing general organizational and methodological provisions in the field of military standardization;

11) Technical Commission – advisory body created under the authorized body for military standardization;

12) technical committee for standardization – an advisory and advisory body created in sectors of the economy on a voluntary basis to carry out activities in the field of standardization and participate in the creation of a national standardization system for fixed objects of standardization or areas of activity.

Footnote. Paragraph 2 as amended by the Order of the Minister of Industry and Construction of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 22.08.2025 № 310 (effective ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

3. The organization of work in the field of military standardization shall be carried out at the expense and within the limits of the republican budget, provided by the authorized body for the corresponding year, unless another source of funding is provided.

In order to improve safety and ensure the quality of military standardization objects, legal entities and other non-profit organizations of the Republic of Kazakhstan may, at their own expense, finance the costs of performing work in the field of military standardization specified in clause 10 of these Rules, with inclusion to the action plan on military standardization for the corresponding year.

4. Military national standards are divided into:

- 1) fundamental military national standards;
- 2) military national standards for products, processes, services and methods of their control;
- 3) military national terminology standards;
- 4) military national standards of general technical requirements for types of weapons and military equipment.

Footnote. Paragraph 4 is amended by the Order of the Minister of Industry and Construction of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 22.08.2025 № 310 (effective ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

5. National military standard applies in relation to the objects of military standardization.

Chapter 2. Development and revision of national military standards

6. The national military standard is developed and revised for the purposes of standardization of products of military and dual-use (application), stipulated by these Rules.

7. The development and revision of national military standards shall be carried out in accordance with the annual work plan for military standardization, approved by the authorized body in the fourth quarter of the year, which precedes the planned period in compliance with the legislation on state secrets based on proposals of the subjects of military standardization within the frameworks of allocated monetary funds.

8. The basis for refusal to be included in the military standardization work plan shall be:

- 1) lack of financial resources for military standardization measures;
- 2) irrelevance of the measures on the day of the decision (the national military standard was adopted or revised with the same area of distribution, the proposed changes do not correspond to the modern scientific and technical level of development of science, technology and technology).

9. The development, coordination, approval, and introduction of amendments (additions) to the work plan for military standardization, including the establishment of forms of documents for the specified plan, is determined by the fundamental military standard of the State system of technical regulation of the Republic of Kazakhstan 1.1.

Footnote. Paragraph 4 is amended by the Order of the Minister of Industry and Construction of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 22.08.2025 № 310 (effective ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

10. Development and revision of national military standards shall include the following stages:

- 1) development of the terms of reference (technical specification), feasibility study;
- 2) development of a draft military national standard and an explanatory note to it, sending it to the subjects of military standardization for consideration;
- 3) revision of the draft military national standard, taking into account the comments and suggestions received from the subjects of military standardization;
- 4) preparation for approval (adoption), including examination, approval (adoption) and consideration of the national military standard;
- 5) referring to the information of restricted distribution and constituting state secrets in accordance with the norms of the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated March 15, 1999 "On state secrets".

Footnote. Paragraph 10 as amended by the Order of the Minister of Industry and Construction of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 22.08.2025 № 310 (effective ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

11. The procedures for the development, coordination, construction, design, content, presentation of military national standards are established by the fundamental military standards of the State system of technical regulation of the Republic of Kazakhstan 1.2 and of the State system of technical regulation of the Republic of Kazakhstan 1.5.

Footnote. Paragraph 11 is amended by the Order of the Minister of Industry and Construction of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 22.08.2025 № 310 (effective ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

12. The development and revision of national military standards shall be carried out by state bodies within their competence, as well as by legal entities of the Republic of Kazakhstan that meet the requirements of the technical assignment (technical specification) of the authorized body for the development of a national military standard.

13. The basis for classifying military national standards is their compliance with the list of information subject to classification in force at the authorized body.

Footnote. Paragraph 13 is amended by the Order of the Minister of Industry and Construction of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 22.08.2025 № 310 (effective ten calendar days after the date of its first official publication).

Chapter 3. Coordination of national military standards

14. The draft military national standard, depending on the object of military standardization, is sent by the developer for approval to the customer of the development and the subjects of military standardization.
