To this end, the branch of the fund sends inquiries to state bodies and relevant organizations, to a payer of social contributions. At the same time, the applicant is notified through the portal about a delay in making a decision on granting social benefits and extension of a timeframe for making the decision, but maximum for one month of the date of sending the EMF for verification.

If a need is identified to attach additional documents (information) on electronic applications received through the portal to the EMF for making a decision on granting (refusal to grant) a social benefit, the branch of the fund returns the EMF to the office of the State Corporation through the “E-model” AIS. The notification of the need to supplement the documents for granting the social benefit is automatically sent to the service recipient through the portal in accordance with the form in Appendix 26 to these Rules.

The term for supplementing the documents shall not exceed thirty working days of the date of sending the EMF for supplementing by the branch of the fund. If the required documents are not submitted within twenty-five working days, the branch of the fund makes a decision to refuse to grant the social benefit.

33. Based on the results of the decision made by the branch of the fund, the “E-model” AIS generates an electronic notification of granting (refusal to grant with the indication of the reason) the social benefit in accordance with Appendix 27 to these Rules certified by the EDS of the head of the fund’s branch and sends it to the “personal account” of the service recipient on the portal.

Chapter 5. The procedure for providing proactive services for granting social benefits

34. If a right to social benefits arises on the grounds provided for by the Law, when registering the telephone number of the subscriber’s mobile device of the service recipient on the portal, the “E-model” AIS automatically generates a message about the possibility to receive a social benefit and choose a language.

35. The day of obtaining consent for receiving social benefits from the fund using a proactive service is the day of applying for granting social benefits.

If the service recipient does not express his/her consent within three calendar days, the proactive service is not provided.

36. After receiving the consent of the service recipient for the provision of a proactive service, as well as other necessary information from the service recipient, including that of limited access, a notification is sent via the subscriber’s mobile device of the service recipient to confirm or provide a bank account number.

37. When granting social benefits using a proactive service, a request to the IS of state bodies and (or) organizations to obtain the necessary information specified in paragraph 14 of these Rules is carried out by the “E-model” AIS.

38. As soon as the bank account number is confirmed by a second-tier bank (hereinafter referred to as STB) and information is obtained from the SB IS, a specialist of the office of the State Corporation generates an electronic application, EMF, calculates the amount of social benefits, forms a draft decision and certifies it with EDS.

The actions of employees of the branch of the State Corporation and the branch of the fund are described in Chapter 3 of these Rules.

If the EMF lacks or contains incorrect information necessary for making a decision on granting (refusal to grant), the branch of the fund makes a decision to refuse to grant a social benefit.

39. The office of the State Corporation informs the applicant about the decision made by the fund’s branch on granting or refusal to grant a social benefit by sending an SMS notification to the mobile phone of the service recipient.

SMS notifications about granting or refusal to grant a social benefit are registered in the SMS-notification log in accordance with the form in Appendix 25 of these Rules

Chapter 6. The procedure for calculating (determining) amounts of social benefits

40. The amount of a social benefit is calculated on the basis of the average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system, which is accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions, except for the income of individuals who are payers of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Code, until the date of the emergence of the right to a social benefit and corresponding coefficients.

When calculating and changing the amount of social benefits, the amounts calculated in tiyn are rounded up to one tenge.

41. If social contributions for the same period were received both from an employer and an individual who is a payer of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Tax Code, when calculating social benefits, the income of the individual, who is the payer of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 Of the Tax Code, is recognized at the level of income from which social contributions to the fund were made.

42. When calculating the amount of social benefits for the loss of capacity for work , loss of the breadwinner, loss of job and loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age, the average monthly income taken into account as an object of calculating social contributions is determined by dividing the amount of income, from which social contributions were made for the previous twenty-four calendar months (regardless of whether there were breaks in paying social contributions during this period) preceding the month in which the right to the social benefit arose, by twenty-four using the formula below:

$$AMI = (MI 1 + MI 2 + MI 3.....+ MI 24) / 24, \text{ where:}$$

AMI – average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system;

MI – monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions.

MI of individuals, who are payers of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Tax Code, is determined as required by paragraphs 41, 45 and 55 of these Rules.

At the same time, in accordance with part two of paragraph 1 of Article 22 of the Law, when calculating the amount of a social benefit for the loss of job, the income of an individual who is a payer of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Tax Code is not taken into account.

43. When calculating the amount of a social benefit for the loss of income due to pregnancy and childbirth, adoption of a newborn child (children), the average monthly income taken into account as an object of calculating social contributions is determined by dividing the amount of income, from which social contributions were made for the last twelve calendar months (regardless of whether there were breaks in paying social security contributions during this period) preceding the month in which the right to the social benefit arose, by twelve using the formula below:

$$AMIdtpc = (MI 1 + MI 2 + MI 3.....+ MI 12) / 12, \text{ where:}$$

AMIdtpc – average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system;

MI – monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions.

MI of individuals, who are payers of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Tax Code, is determined as required by paragraphs 41, 45 and 55 of these Rules.

44. Monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions, except for the income of individuals who are payers of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Tax Code, is calculated by dividing the amount of social contributions received from a payer for the specified month by the rate of social contributions and multiplying the result obtained by one hundred using the formula below:

$$MI = SCm / Ssc \times 100, \text{ where:}$$

SCm – social contributions for a month;

Ssc – rate of social contributions.

45. As to individuals who are payers of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Tax Code, monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions is recognized at the level of one minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget for the corresponding financial year:

$$MI = 1 MW$$

MW – the minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget for the corresponding financial year in which the single aggregate payment was made.

46. The amount of a monthly social benefit for the loss of capacity for work is determined by multiplying the average monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions, minus fifty-five percent of the minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget as of the date of the emergence of the right to the social benefit, by corresponding coefficients using the formula below:

$$SBlc = (AMI - 55\% \text{ of MW}) \times IRC \times PRC \times CLC, \text{ where:}$$

SBlc – social benefit for the loss of capacity for work;

AMI – average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system determined in accordance with paragraph 42 of these Rules;

MW – the minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget as of the date of the emergence of the right to the social benefit;

IRC – income replacement coefficient;

PRC – participation record coefficient;

CLC – coefficient of loss of capacity for work.

The income replacement coefficient is 0.6.

CLC corresponds to the assessed degree of loss of general capacity for work from 30% to 100%.

At the same time, the PRC for social benefits for the loss of capacity for work, loss of the breadwinner, loss of job is:

0.1 - for less than six months;

0.7 - from six to twelve months;

0.75 - from twelve to twenty-four months;

0.85 - from twenty-four to thirty-six months;

0.9 - from thirty-six to forty-eight months;

0.95 - from forty-eight to sixty months;

1.0 - from sixty to seventy-two months;

from sixty and more months - 2 percent is added to 1.0 for every twelve months of the compulsory social insurance record.

If the participation record is 72 months or more, the PRC is determined using the formula below:

$PRC = 1.0 + ((Msc - 60 \text{ mts} / 12) \text{ the number of full months} * Uco \text{ is taken into account})$, where

1.0 - PRC for the record of participation from sixty to seventy-two months;

Msc – the total number of calendar months for which social contributions were received.

Uco – rate of increase of PRC (2% or 0.02).

47. The amount of a monthly social benefit for the loss of the breadwinner is determined by multiplying the average monthly income taken into account as an object of calculating social contributions, minus fifty-five percent of the minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget as of the date of the emergence of the right to the social benefit, by the corresponding coefficients using the formula below:

$SB1b = (AMI - 55\% \text{ of MW}) \times IRC \times PRC \times CND$, where:

SB1b – social benefit for the loss of the breadwinner;

AMI – average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system determined in accordance with paragraph 42 of these Rules;

MW – the minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget as of the date of the emergence of the right to the social benefit;

IRC – income replacement coefficient;

PRC – participation record coefficient;

CND – coefficient of the number of dependents.

CND for one dependent is 0.5, for two dependents – 0.65, for three dependents – 0.8, for four and more dependents – 1.0.

IRC and PRC are determined in accordance with paragraph 46 of these Rules.

48. The amount of a monthly social benefit for the loss of job is determined by multiplying the average monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions by the corresponding coefficients of income replacement and participation record using the formula below:

$SBLJ = AMI \times IRC \times PRC$, where:

SBlj – social benefit for the loss of job;

AMI – average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system determined in accordance with paragraph 42 of these Rules;

IRC – income replacement coefficient;

PRC – participation record coefficient.

The income replacement coefficient is 0.4.

PRC is determined in accordance with paragraph 46 of these Rules.

49. The amount of a social benefit for the loss of income due to pregnancy and childbirth, adoption of a newborn child (children) is determined by multiplying the average monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions by the corresponding coefficient of the number of days of incapacity for work using the formula below:

$SBpc = AMIdtpc \times CND$, where:

SBpc – social benefit for the loss of income due to pregnancy and childbirth, adoption of a newborn child (children);

AMIdtpc – the average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system determined in accordance with paragraph 43 of these Rules;

CND – coefficient of the number of days of incapacity for work.

The coefficient of the number of days of incapacity for work is determined by dividing the number of days for which a certificate (certificates) of temporary loss of capacity for work due to pregnancy and childbirth, adoption of a newborn child (children) was issued by thirty calendar days.

In this case, the value of the coefficient of the number of days of incapacity for work is rounded to one decimal place by applying the arithmetic rounding method (if the second decimal place is lower than 5, it is rounded to 0; if it is 5 and above - to 1).

50. For residents of the city of Baikonyr that are members of the compulsory social insurance system, the coefficient of the number of days of incapacity for work is determined based on the number of days of maternity leave, leave for adoption of a newborn child (children) in accordance with the Labor Code of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

51. In the case of complicated childbirth, giving birth to twins or more, the coefficient of the number of days of incapacity for work is recalculated on the basis of a certificate (certificates) of temporary loss of capacity for work due to pregnancy and childbirth extended additionally due to complicated childbirth or giving birth to twins or more. In this case, the social benefit for the loss of income due to pregnancy and childbirth is recalculated in accordance with paragraph 63 of these Rules.

52. The amount of a monthly social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age is determined by multiplying the average monthly income accounted for as an object of calculating social contributions by the income replacement coefficient using the formula below:

$SBcc = AMI \times IRC$, where:

SBcc – social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age;

AMI – average monthly income of a member of the compulsory social insurance system determined in accordance with paragraph 42 of these Rules;

IRC – income replacement coefficient.

IRC is 0.4.

53. If the calculated amount of a social benefit for the loss of capacity for work and loss of the breadwinner is negative, the branch of the fund makes a decision to refuse to grant the social benefit.

If no social contributions were made for a member of the compulsory social insurance system for the previous 24 months preceding the month of the emergence of social risk in case of loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age, he/she is granted a monthly state allowance for caring a child under one year of age in accordance with the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan “On state allowances for families with children” as of June 28, 2005 (hereinafter referred to as the Law “On state allowances for families with children”).

54. In case of repeated receipt of social contributions in favor of a member of the compulsory social insurance system for the same month from the same payer, the total income accepted for calculating social benefits for this month must not exceed seven times the minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget for the corresponding financial year.

55. In case of receipt of social contributions in favor of a member of the compulsory social insurance system for the same month from two or more payers, the monthly income from each payer for received social contributions is recognized in an amount not exceeding seven times the minimum wage established by the law on the republican budget for the corresponding financial year, which are subsequently added up.

At the same time, in case of receipt of social contributions for the same period from an employer and an individual who is a payer of the single aggregate payment in accordance with Article 774 of the Tax Code, when calculating a social benefit, the income is recognized at the level of income from which social contributions to the fund were made.

Chapter 7. The procedure for suspending, resuming, terminating and recalculating the amounts of social benefits

56. In case of receiving information from the IS of state bodies and organizations, the branch of the fund daily makes a decision to suspend social benefits in accordance with the form in Appendix 28 to these Rules from the first day of the month following the month of receipt of information:

1) on the recipient's departure for permanent residence outside the Republic of Kazakhstan;

2) on the recipient's serving of an imprisonment sentence imposed by a court;

3) on the expiry date of the identity document of a foreigner or stateless person, a certificate of a repatriate;

4) on the identification of recognition of missing persons who are on the wanted list;

7) on the deceased or declared dead;

8) on the identification of the fact of loss or renunciation of the citizenship of the Republic of Kazakhstan prior to obtaining a residence permit of a foreigner;

9) on the provision by an applicant of inaccurate information that entailed an unjustified determination of the amount of social benefits from authorized bodies and organizations, as well as from a payer of social contributions.

An office of the State Corporation:

on a quarterly basis, cross-checks the absence of debit transactions in the recipient's bank account for three or more months with the authorized organization for issuing social benefits;

based on the results of cross-checking, works with a recipient of a social benefit to clarify reasons for the absence of debit transactions;

in case of finding facts that are a ground for suspending social benefits, draws up a draft decision in accordance with the form in Appendix 29 to these Rules from the first day of the month following the month of receipt of information and sends it to the branch of the fund for making a decision on suspension; suspends social benefits on the basis of the decision of the branch of the fund.

Footnote. Paragraph 56 as amended by the order of the Minister of Labor and Social Protection of the Population of the Republic of Kazakhstan dated 16.03.2021 № 78 (shall enter into force upon expiry of ten calendar days after the day of its first official publication).

57. In the event of occurrence of circumstances that are a ground for resuming social benefits, the branch of the fund, in case of receiving information from the IS of state bodies and organizations, makes a decision to resume social benefits in accordance with the form in Appendix 28 to these Rules from the date of suspension or emergence of the right to resumption.

If the IS of state bodies and organizations lack information, the office of the State Corporation accepts documents required for resuming social benefits, supplements the recipient's EMF with newly submitted documents, forms a draft decision in accordance with the form in Appendix 29 to these Rules, and sends it for approval to the branch of the fund in the manner prescribed by Chapter 3 of these Rules.

58. The amount of social benefits in the event of a change in the degree of loss of general capacity for work or a timeframe for assessing a degree of loss of general capacity for work is recalculated by branches of the fund in case of receiving information from the IS of state bodies and organizations in accordance with the form in Appendix 30 to these Rules.

In the event of next MSA re-examination and assessment of a degree of loss of general capacity for work, a social benefit is resumed in the amount set at the time of suspension based on the decision of the fund's branch.

If the IS of state bodies and organizations lack information, in the event of a change in a degree of loss of general capacity for work or a timeframe for assessing a degree of loss of general capacity for work, an office of the State Corporation forms a draft decision on recalculating the amount of the social benefit from the date of assessing the degree of loss of general capacity for work and sends it to the Fund's branch in accordance with the form in Appendix 16 to these Rules.

At the same time, if six or more months have passed from the date of the end of the previous period for assessing a degree of loss of general capacity for work, an application for recalculation of the social benefit in accordance with the form in Appendix 1 to these Rules is accepted by an office of the State Corporation.

The new amount of the social benefit is calculated by dividing the current amount of the social benefit for the loss of capacity for work by the current coefficient of loss of general capacity for work and multiplying the result by the newly assessed coefficient of loss of general capacity for work.

59. If the degree of loss of general capacity for work is assessed after the recipient is recognized as able-bodied, based on the MSA opinion, the amount of the social benefit for the loss of capacity for work is determined from the date of the newly assessed degree of loss of general capacity for work in accordance with paragraph 46 of these Rules.

As to persons eligible for the allocation of a share of a social benefit for the loss of the breadwinner, the amount of the social benefit is recalculated from the date of submission of a written application.

The amount of a social benefit in case of a decrease in the number of dependents is recalculated by branches of the fund in case of receiving information from the IS of state bodies and organizations in accordance with the form in Appendix 32 to these Rules.

If IS of state bodies and organizations lack information, in the event of a decrease in the number of dependents, an office of the State Corporation makes a draft decision on recalculating the amount of the social benefit from the date of termination of the social benefit for the loss of the breadwinner to one of the dependents of the deceased (recognized as missing or declared dead by the court) breadwinner and sends it to the Fund's branch in accordance with the form in Appendix 17 to these Rules.

The new amount of the social benefit is calculated by dividing the current amount of the social benefit for the loss of the breadwinner by the current coefficient of the number of dependents and multiplying the result by the newly established coefficient of the number of dependents.

On the basis of the application of the recipient of the social benefit for the loss of the breadwinner for the recalculation of the amount of the social benefit, the office of the State Corporation makes a draft decision for approval by the branch of the fund in accordance with the form in Appendix 17 to these Rules.

61. The fund's branch daily makes a decision on the termination of social benefits in accordance with the form in Appendix 28 to these Rules from the first day of the month following the month of occurrence of the circumstance that is a ground for such termination, in case of receiving information from the IS of state bodies and organizations (including from the IS of the authorized body):

1) on the death of the recipient (recognition as missing or declaring deceased by the court);

2) on the recipient's submission of inaccurate documents (information) that served as the basis for making a decision on granting the social benefit;

3) in connection with the submission of the recipient's application for the termination of the social benefit in accordance with the form in Appendix 33 of these Rules.

A social benefit for the loss of capacity for work is terminated on the grounds specified in part one of this paragraph, as well as:

3) after the expiry of the month in which parents were deprived of or limited in parental rights, decisions on adoption were invalidated or canceled, guardians were released or suspended from their duties, in cases established by the matrimonial legislation of the Republic of Kazakhstan.

Based on the decision of the branch of the fund, the office of the State Corporation stops paying social benefits.

At the same time, within five working days of receipt of the decision of the branch of the fund on termination of the social benefit for the loss of job, the office of the State Corporation notifies the recipient thereof indicating the reasons in accordance with the form in Appendix 34 to these Rules:

when the applicant appears in person, by delivering him/her a notification; or by sending an SMS notification to the applicant's mobile phone.

SMS notifications about notifying the recipient are registered in the SMS-notification log in accordance with the form in Appendix 25 to these Rules.

In cases of referral of the unemployed to perform social jobs, public works and vocational training by an employment center as part of active employment promotion measures, social benefits for the loss of job are not terminated.

62. If the IS of state bodies and organizations of the authorized body lack information, the office of the State Corporation accepts documents required for terminating social benefits on the grounds specified in paragraph 61 of these Rules, forms a draft decision on termination and sends it to the Branch of the Fund in accordance with the form in Appendix 29 to these Rules.

63. A social benefit for the loss of income due to pregnancy and childbirth in case of complicated childbirth, giving birth to twins or more is recalculated by deducting the granted amount of the social benefit from the newly calculated amount of the social benefit for the loss of income due to pregnancy and childbirth, taking into account the total number of days of incapacity for work according to a certificate (certificates) of temporary loss of capacity for work due to pregnancy and childbirth.

On the basis of the application of the recipient of the social benefit for the loss of income due to pregnancy and childbirth for recalculating the amount of the social benefit, the office of the State Corporation makes a draft decision for approval by the branch of the fund.

64. When revising the amount of the monthly state allowance for caring for a child under one year of age, provided for by the Law of the Republic of Kazakhstan "On state allowances for families with children", the minimum amount of the social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age is recalculated up to the level of the state allowance for caring for a child under one year of age with an additional calculation of compulsory pension contributions withheld in favor of the unified accumulative pension fund.

At the same time, the office of the State Corporation makes a draft decision on recalculating the amount of the social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age in accordance with the form in Appendix 35 to these Rules to be approved by the branch of the fund.

65. In the event that the recipient of a social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age submits an additional certificate (certificates) of the birth of the child (children) or a certificate containing information from the vital records of birth, the amount of the social benefit is recalculated from the day the right to the social benefit arises, taking into account the birth order of a newborn child (children).

Based on the application of the recipient of the social benefit in accordance with the form in Appendix 1 to these Rules for recalculating the amount of the social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age, the office of the State Corporation makes a draft decision in accordance with the form in Appendix 20 to these Rules for approval by the branch of the fund.

In this case, the term for applying for the recalculation of a social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age does not exceed 12 months from the date of the emergence of the right to the social benefit for the loss of income due to caring for a child under one year of age.

66. In case of receipt of social contributions for the period that was accepted for calculating the social benefit, after the date of applying for the social benefit, the amount of the granted social benefit to the recipient is not recalculated.

67. Social contributions recognized as illegal on the basis of judicial acts, paid for the period taken into account when determining the amount of the social benefit, are not taken into account in subsequent applications of a member of the compulsory social insurance system, in whose favor social contributions were made for paying the social benefit.

At the same time, information on social contributions recognized as illegal on the basis of judicial acts is transferred to the State Corporation through the IS of the authorized body.

Chapter 8. The procedure for paying a social benefit in case of change of a place of residence

68. Persons who have arrived for permanent residence in the Republic of Kazakhstan or recipients who have arrived from other regions of the Republic of Kazakhstan submit a request for the file of the recipient of a social benefit for the loss of capacity for work or loss of the breadwinner in accordance with the form in Appendix 36 to these Rules unless otherwise provided for by laws and international treaties.

The office of the State Corporation sends a request for the recipient's file to the applicant's former place of residence.

69. Persons who have arrived for permanent residence in the Republic of Kazakhstan from other countries submit an application in accordance with the form in Appendix 1 to these Rules and documents required by relevant standards of public services.

70. A social benefit for the loss of capacity for work and loss of the breadwinner is resumed to persons who were recipients of these benefits and left for permanent residence outside the Republic of Kazakhstan but returned, in case of their not receiving benefits in the country of departure, from the date of termination of the benefit, but not more than for three years before applying for their receipt on the basis of documents required by relevant standards of public services.

In this case, social benefits are resumed in the amount set at the time of departure from the Republic of Kazakhstan. If social benefits were increased during the period of departure, their amount is set with account of these increases.

In case of receiving benefits in the country of departure, social benefits are resumed from the date of application, subject to registration at a permanent place of residence in the Republic of Kazakhstan, in the amount set at the time of departure from the Republic of Kazakhstan on the basis of documents required by relevant standards of public services.

A decision on resumption is approved by the branch of the fund in accordance with Chapter 3 of these Rules.

71. The file of the recipient of a social benefit for the loss of capacity for work or loss of the breadwinner, who has left for other regions of the Republic of Kazakhstan, is sent by electronic request from other offices of the State Corporation.
